Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

TRAVELING CHURCH

NEW ORLEANS (AP)-From fall to next summer, six specially equipped buses will serve as "missions-on-wheels" among workers on sugar cane plantations and waterfront docks of south Louisiana.

The buses, owned by New Orleans Baptist Theological seminary, contain equipment for portable worship services-organ. record player and public address system. The buses are manned by seminary students.

Last year, the roving evangelical teams traveled more than 13,600 miles on such field mission assignments.

President Gets Back to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) - Presient Johnson, back in the White House for the first time since his big election victory, got a backyard welcome Sunday night from Cabinet members, aides, children and dogs.

A crowd of several hundred. headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, gathered at the south portico to greet the President and Mrs. Johnson as they arrived by helicopter on the final leg of a trip from their ranch home in Texas.

"My," said Johnson, "It's so nice to see all of you.'

Johnson is expected to remain in Washington only a few days and hopes to spend much of the next seven weeks at his hill country ranch near Johnson

Rusk and other Cabinet members and their families were the first to greet the Johnsons, setting up an informal receiving

The President apparently had no advance word of the very informal affair.

Someone handed him the leashes of his two beagles, Him and Her, soon after he alighted, and he kept the dogs in tow on the trek to the house.

Two Explosions Wreck Italian Party Quarters

By EUGENE LEVIN ROME (AP) - Two explosions wrecked the national headquarters of Premier Aldo Moro's Christian Democratic party early today, injuring two men slightly.

The bombing was expected to have a large political echo in the country, which next Sunday has nationwide municipal elections. The vote is considered a popularity test for Moro's center-left coalition government.

Police said they received a report that the terrorists who set the charges sped away in a white car. A massive search was under way.

Two charges were set off before the main gate to the party's headquarters. Four heavy steel doors on the building were blown from their hinges. Most of the office equipment on the ground floor was destroyed. Iwo holes were dug in the street. Hundreds of windows in adjoining houses were shat-

TV Shows How People Were In Olden Days

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Telvision-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television har become such a household staple that parents often are nonplused when their children inquire how they spent their evenings "in the olden days."

We all had a chance to find out — and for many of us, to remember — Sunday night when NBC presented a 55-minute radio program recalling some of the high moments of the golden pre-television era.

There was Eddie Cantor signing his closing song, "I Love to Spend Each Sunday with You," and Major Bowes quieting the applause for an amateur contestant in his calm voice.

Stars of the show were Edwar

Stars of the show were Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, who started in radio 31 years ago with a coffee sponsor — when coffee came in paper bags.

Some of us recall our delight in the hilarious exchanges between Bergen's fresh little dummy and the great W. C. Fields but, in one way, hearing bits from those great old radio shows was rather like returning to beloved scenes of childhood: disappointing.

"Ah-ha," growled Fields greeting Charlie, "the wood pecker's pin-up boy."

"Wormwood," he said a moment later, "I'll whittle you down to a coat hanger."

In the background you could hear a real, rich roar of laughter from the studio audience. In many a home night, there must have been nostalgic smiles.

That brings us to the incredible two hours of special programs on network television this past weekend which concentrated on the Beatles.

On Friday night CBS presented some film made during the singers' American tour — and I've made better home movies myself. The shots were mostly confused crowd scenes, full of bobbing heads, and the sound track was loaded with squeals and an occasional spatch of a song. Carol Burnett read a dull narration with a remarkable lack of enthusiasm.

Then Sunday n i g h t A B C cleared an hour for something called "Around the Beatles," in which a number of young British rock 'n' rollers wailed, bobbed and shook their long locks while a mob of youngsters howled and screamed and clamed their hands ings magic in rock 'n' roll. ABC has done so well with its Wednesday night pop music "Shindig" that next week it will skip "Mickey," which follows it, to give the youngsters a double dose.

Ed Sullivan, on the other hand, will attempt to control those unruly teen-agers in his studio audience by raising the age minimum to 18 and requiring that there be one adult for every three minors. High time—the squealers were in full throat in his audience Sunday night.

Ah, me! Nelson Eddy sounded pretty good on the radio Sunday night and at least his feminine admirers swooned silently.

Local Delegates Return From Audubon Meet

Several Colorado Springs persons returned during the week end from the 60th annual convention of the National Augubon Society in Tucson, Ariz. They are members of the Colorado Springs Aiken Ornithological Society, which is the local chapter of the national organization. They included: Mrs. Kim Jones of Cascade; Mr. and Mrs. Noble J. Miller, Mrs. William Noble and Mrs. M. M. Thurlow of Colorado Springs.

They participated in discussions at the National Audubon Society convention - regarding the plight of the California condor, one of the world's largest and rarest birds, and threats to the National Park System. They were among the 1,000 members and delegates who attended the convention.

A research team reported that only about 40 condors are alive today, compared to about 60 fifteen years ago. The report was presented by Dr. Alden Miller, director of the Museum of Ver-tebrate Zoology of the Univer-sity of California, who directed field studies during the past two years by a team of brother naturalists, Ian McMillan of Shandon, Calif., and Eben McMillan of Cholame, Calif.

Dr. Miller and the McMillans attributed the decline principally to one factor: The wide-ranging adult birds are being shot by irresponsible or ignorant gunners faster than the breed pairs can replace the losses. The identified as the To m b of the Unknown Soldier.

JUST CRUMING DOWN THE RIVER—Take a log raft, a jazz combo, the Isar River near Munich, Germany, and a bunch of lively teen-agers. Mix lightly and you've got a pleasant, if hectic, afternoon. Most everybody gets wet on the five-hour, down-river jaunt, so bathing suits are the usual costumes. The man at the tiller, dressed traditionally, apparently doesn't mind the noisy music or the splashy stomp of young German feet.

This identity has an interesting side-bar story attached to it. Back in the 1920's when Kirk Simpson of AP won his journalistic award for his story on the burial of the Unknown Soldier, a group of newsmen were gathered in the National Press. Club to congratulate a fellow craftsman on his feat.

Among those present were Marine Corps Commandant Gen. John Lejeune and his aide. As the evening swiftly spread into night one bright reporter sudedenly had an idea.

Wanting to keep history correctly recorded, he asked Simpson the question, "Say Kirk, you called the burial the Burial of the Unknown Soldiers. He could have been an unknown Marine."

Pulling himself to his feet he bellowed to the reporters the colled to the reporters sion "an unknown Marine."
